At the Tea on THC, raising awareness in community is central to our work. Recently we were invited by the Rhode Island Department of Health to speak at the Cultivating Cannabis Awareness Symposium. Dr. Annie Collier, Dr. Greg Tung, and James Corbett presented on the evolving research, policy recommendations, and education campaign to increase awareness of the risks of high concentration cannabis use. Opportunities like these allow us to exchange knowledge with peers, bring insights back to our communities, and to extend our knowledge and reach.

Want to see the Tea on THC at your event?

If you are interested in having a presentation or would like to invite us to a community event, please email us at info@teaonthc.org. We welcome the chance to collaborate, educate, and spill the tea on THC.

As the cannabis landscape in the United States continues to evolve rapidly, the Tea on THC remains grounded in the latest data and research to guide evidence-based education and meaningful provider engagement.
